Not illustrated. 1906 Excerpt: ...Mr. Richardson, as he has admitted in writing, of selling his name to Chinese for a money compensation; that when Mr. Richardson registered his firm in the Canton consulate on July 9, 1902, as C. E. Richardson & Co., he represented that he was the sole partner, doing business under that name and style, but he (Mr. Richardson) refused to give him any information as to the nature of his business, capital, or to let him see any books or papers connected with his business. Mr. McWade referred to 23 books which the Nan Hoi magistrate had seized, showing that the business of the firms Chit Wo and Fau Chuen were purely Chinese¹. I explained to Mr. McWade that I had seen articles of partnership of Mr. Richardson with certain Chinese who were engaged in business under the above Chinese names and styles, and the documents appeared to be drawn up in due and regular form. Mr. McWade did not believe in the partnership, and said that Mr. Richardson was capable of doing any illegal act. He referred to the statement made by one Fung Hung, which was sworn to before him officially as United States consul-general in the presence of witnesses, one being the deputy commissioner of customs at Canton, Mr. Schmidt. Mr. Fung Hung's statement showed that the firm of C. E. Richardson & Co. was bogus, and that Mr. Richardson received for the use of his name $1,000 per annum. I explained to Mr. McWade that as Mr. Richardson had told me in Hongkong that the statement of Fung Hung was false, and that it had been made by him under pressure from those in his office, I had examined him personally in Chinese and found that he denied the truth of every statement made in it excepting one which referred to certain parties in Hongkong from whom purchases of merchandise were made; that h...
