Not illustrated. 1907 Excerpt: ...costing $3000, and have a union or central high school well under way. Walker.--Since November, 1902, the number of school buildings in Walker county has been reduced 10 per cent, and by careful enumeration the enrollment has been increased 10 per cent. Eighteen per cent of the schoolhouses are new and 6 per cent of them have two rooms. The length of school term in more than half the districts has been increased by the addition of one, two or three months. Owing to the sparse population in parts of the county, consolidation is not everywhere practicable. Even where it is practicable, in the judgment of the county superintendent, much work is necessary to convince the patrons that it is to their interest to establish strong, well equipped schools even at a distance of several miles from their homes, rather than to locate a number of small, woak schools within a few hundred yards of their doors. Before consolidation many districts were furnished with a number of inferior houses. Since consolidation, large, well constructed, comfortaMo and attractive buildings have taken the places of these disreputable shanties. The new buildings are furnished with modern desk? and appliances, and the schools taught by teachers who hold permanent certificates. Answers by Ex-Officio County Superintendents. Goliad.--Have merged one small school into a large one, and think it advisable, when such can be done, that it be done. Maverick.--Two county schools (at coal mines) have been added to the Independent District of Eagle Pass, thereby making three white and one colored in said district. Wilbarger.--Have consolidated some of smaller schools; makes better schools. Of the other twenty-seven county
