Not illustrated. 1898 Excerpt: ...General Orders, ) Hdqrs. Second Div., First Cav. Corps, No. 10. ) Near Spring Hill, Tenn., April 10, 1863. I. It is with pride and pleasure that the brigadier-general commanding division notices the gallant and meritorious conduct of the officers and men of the Twenty eighth Regiment Mississippi Cavalry, First Brigade, in the charge upon Franklin to-day. When ordered to charge into the town, they did so promptly, at their swiftest speed, and although in the face of the enemys batteries, and houses lined with their sharpshooters, they drove everything resistlessly before them, and pushed their victorious columns to the banks of Harpeth River, killing and wounding a considerable number of the enemy; and upon returning formed in good order in an open field in easy range and under the well-directed fire of the enemys heavy guns. To show the danger to which they were exposed, attention is directed to the official report of killed, wounded, and missing. Such exhibitions of valor as were shown by them reflects the highest credit upon their State, themselves, and their families, and serves to weaken and intimidate the foe. The charge of to-day into Franklin, under such adverse circumstances, finds no parallel in this war, and will embellish another page of the history of our country with the martial achievements and glory of Southern arms. II. High mention is due the officers and men of the First Regiment Mississippi Cavalry, First Brigade, for the dashing manner in which they charged and drove the enemy into their fortifications; also to my escort, Capt. William F. Taylor commanding, for the fearless manner in which, on the 31st of March and to-day, they charged superior forces of the enemy with great success. Compliments are extended to ...
